

ADAM'S APPRENTICES

Robert Adam (1728-1792) was a Scottish Architect and designer.

He was a leader of the neo-classical revival and he transformed country mansions all over England, including Syon House.

As an Apprentice to Robert Adam you will learn about his fascinating work.

As you go round the five State Rooms that Adam remodeled you will discover his techniques and how he was influenced in his design from Greece and Rome.

Learn to identify classical columns, mythical monsters, Greek Gods and Goddesses.

Come be an apprentice, experience the architecture world and learn the trade!