

Lakeland announces new store at prestigious Syon Park, West London

Lakeland, experts in cooking, baking, cleaning and laundry are pleased to announce the opening of an exciting new store at Syon Park, West London in early June. The new Lakeland store will sit within a beautiful octagonal-shaped listed building, with the opening expected to create a number of new jobs.

The new Lakeland store is set in the heart of Syon Park. Syon is 200 acres of grand historic landscape, close to central London, with parkland designed by Capability Brown in the mid-18th Century centred on the magnificent House and Great Conservatory. With cattle grazing in the meadows, and open vistas through woodland and arboretum, Syon is a stunning rural setting.

The Lakeland store will be packed with exciting new ideas and tried-and-tested solutions for the kitchen and home. Whether you love to cook and bake, enjoy making the most of dining alfresco, or like nothing more than a sparkling bathroom – the store has something for everyone. Lakeland’s friendly and knowledgeable store colleagues will be on hand to help with any queries and all of Lakeland’s products are backed by their unrivalled 3-year guarantee.

Commenting on the opening, Emma Kay, Head of Property at Lakeland said, “We are delighted to be opening a new Lakeland store at Syon Park. This exciting new store is beautiful – and set in the stunning surroundings of the prestigious Syon Park, creating the perfect day out for customers to enjoy. We can’t wait to welcome customers into store when we open our doors in early June.”
